Paris Loses Oppen To Richmond.

Paris lost the opening game of the series with the Pioneers on the Richmond grounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 13 to 3.

SATURDAY.

Paris yielded a see-saw affair to the Lawmakers at White Park Saturday afternoon, the visitors winning by a score of 9 to 8. Hauser had an off day and his slants were to the liking of the visitors, who were free with their hits to the latter part of the sixth when he was relieved by Applegate, who finished the game. Langhitt proved easy for the locals and before three men had been retired in the sixth inning following a misadventure of safe driver he was yanked from the rubber and French substituted.

The five errors made by Paris were each responsible for a run. The locals made a lively bid for the contest in the ninth when after two were out Chapman doubled to center and was followed by Mollenkamp who singled sending in a run. Goodman retired the side with an easy roller to Zimmerman.

SUNDAY.

Paris took the double bill from the Pioneers at White Park Sunday afternoon, winning the initial contest by a score of 3 to 2, and the last 8 to 2. Hauser who was driven from the mound in the game Saturday by the Lawmakers, came back and pitched both of the seven inning affairs. He held the visitors to two hits in the first game and when the locals forged ahead by a big margin in the second, he eased his pace and never exerted himself in the innings following.

The locals put up an excellent article of ball and found Black in the first game easily, while in the second he was driven from the rubber in the first inning. Manager Jones took his place but he could not stop the hitting streak of the locals who hit the ball freely at all stages.

Locke started at short accepting an even dozen chances without an error, while the remainder of the team fielded well. Harrell had the only two errors in the first game while the only one in the second was registered against Chapman.

With the second game hopelessly lost left-fielder Snyder, of the Pioneers took exceptions to a decision rendered by Umpire Franklin at the home plate and when he became offensive toward the officials he was assessed a fine of $5. This served to greatly arouse the anger of Snyder who assaulted the umpire, striking him in the breast and police interference was necessary. The offending principal was taken from the ground by an officer.

Vein Struck at Blue Lick.

Blue Lick Springs bids air to become the famous resort that it was several years ago. Workmen engaged in sinking a well near the old well struck a rich vein of Blue Lick water at a depth of five hundred feet, and the gusher yielded so rapidly that within an hour the water was within eighteen feet of the top of the well.

Much excitement prevails in the Blue Lick neighborhood and the people believe the finding of the vein means the restoring of the famous watering place to its former position—that of the most prominent in the South.

Several years ago the old well at Blue Lick ran out and repeated efforts have been made to locate a vein of water, but without result until Saturday. The water from the new vein is said to compare very favorably with that of the old well, and a sample has been sent to a chemist to be analyzed.

Paris Team At Home Thursday.

The Paris team will be at home for but one game during the present week. The locals will have the second tilt with the Pioneers at Richmond this afternoon and will go to Mt. Sterling tomorrow. Thursday they will return to Paris with the Mt. Sterling clan for the only game of the week on the local grounds and the remainder of the week will be spent in Mayeville including Sunday.

Promising Show Colt Injured.

The promising show colt belonging to Speakers Bros., of this city, which has created such a sensation at the fairs in this section of Kentucky, where she has been exhibited in the show ring, met with an accident Friday that may prove disastrous to her owners. The colt was being loaded on the train to be taken to Lexington to be ready for the Blue Grass Fair, when in some manner the boards leading to the car pens slipped, pinning the right hind leg of the animal, badly lacerating the member. It is the intention of her owners to exhibit her in the $3,000 colt stake at the fair today and it is probable her injury will lessen the chances for the blue tie. The colt is pronounced by expert horsemen to be the finest specimen ever seen in the show ring and barring the accident would have made a great show at the Lexington fair. However, her owners will try for the big stake today against twenty-seven entries.

Woman In a New Sphere.

Harry Booth gasped, Jimmy Russell stared, Jimmy Roland rubbeded and all the other employees of the Paris Distilling Company wondered as they watched Miss Mayme Pixley, of Jeffersonville, Ind., paint the 110 foot smoke stack of the distillery last Thursday. The young lady, who is quite pretty, donned a suit of bloomers, and after rigging up her own scaffold, proceeded to paint the mammoth stack up one side and down on the other.

Miss Pixley is the daughter of Mr. Wm. Pixley, of Jeffersonville, who has been engaged in the dangerous task of painting smoke stacks, bridges, etc., for a number of years. His pretty daughter has been engaged with him on a number of difficult jobs, including the painting of the new high bridge on the Southern road. The word "fear" is not in her vocabulary, and as she plied the brush from her slender scaffold over a hundred feet in the air, occasionally waving at the spectators who tremblingly watched her from below, she presented a spectacle interesting, to say the least.

The Funeral of Mr. Clifton J. McLearn.

The funeral of Mr. Clifton Jefferson McLearn, who died in this city Wednesday evening, August 7, just as the shades of night were falling, was held at the Baptist church, Friday afternoon, at half-past three o'clock.

The church was filled with representatives of all denominations in the city, friends of this Christian man and his faithful wife, who, since coming to Paris about twelve years ago, have won the love and respect of the entire community by their upright business methods, their devotion to the cause of righteousness, and to each other.

It was a source of regret that the pastor of the church, Rev. E. M. Lightfoot, could not be present upon this occasion to offer his tribute of love and respect to the Christian character of Mr. McLearn, whom he loved as a brother, and to whom he ministered so tenderly during the long, weary months of illness.

In his absence, Rev. Geo. W. Clark, of Henderson, Ky., who during his pastorate of the Paris church, educated himself to Mr. and Mrs. McLearn, conducted the service. He read appropriate Scripture lessons from the XV chapter of I Corinthians and from the Book of Revelations, in reference to the new creature, the new abode and the new conditions of the saints after death. His text was from Job 14-14 "If a man die shall he live again?" A singular coincidence was that this was the same passage of Scripture used at the funeral of Mr. McLearn's little daughter twenty-seven years ago, and was selected by Bro. Clark without this knowledge. The speaker dwelt upon the immortality of the human soul as taught in God's word, and said that the soul and body are distinct, the body being the dwelling place of the soul until time for their separation, when the body returns to dust, and the soul, purified and made perfect through suffering, to the God who gave it.

Rev. Clark then paid a high tribute to the Christian life and character of Mr. McLearn, saying that it was eminently proper for the church and the community to pause and honor the memory of a Christian man, such as this one, who in his life enjoyed a good name, a good reputation with all who knew him.

His integrity, his uprightness were above reproach and he was always true to his convictions. He was one of the best known and most popular hotel men in Kentucky, and in his chosen business stood as a monument of unswerving fidelity to principle. His methods may have been unique, but he was above conducting that business along the lines usually followed—he would permit no objectionable language, no unbecoming conduct. He himself was uniformly courteous, pure and chaste in his conversation and conduct, and endeavored to require the same from those who frequented his place of business.

He also refused absolutely to sell liquor in the hotels which he managed, although this stand cost him thousands of dollars, yet he declined to make any compromise with evil, and was always true to his temperance principles for the sake of humanity. In his very last conversation with his loved ones only a short time before his voice was forever hushed, he urged them to continue the fight for temperance in which he had been engaged for more than thirty years.

Mr. McLearn was a man of good works as well as good man, was kind, gentle and charitable, contributing largely to the church, to temperance, and to every good cause. He would never accept remuneration for board from clergymen, no matter of what denomination. There was always a place at his table and in his house for the minister of God, in any community where he conducted a hotel. Surely such a noble man has received a rich reward, and has been given an abundant entrance into that upper and better kingdom.

The tenderest love and sympathy are extended to the wife who has walked by his side, sharing his burdens, his joys, and his sorrows, for thirty-five years, and between whom there was the most perfect companionship. Their devotion was beautiful and complete, and now that she is left entirely alone, the friends who love her pray that the promises which were so precious to her beloved, and his faith and submission may console and sustain her in her loneliness and sorrow.

Rev. Dr. B. M. Shive, pastor of the Presbyterian church, added his tribute of appreciation and respect to the memory of this good man, and Elder W. E. Ellis, of the Christian church, offered a tender prayer. A quartette composed of Mrs. Fanniebell Sutherland, Prof. A. H. Morehead and Dr. Frank Fithian, sang "Some Sweet Day," "It is Well With My Soul" and "Shall We Gather at the River?" The body was tenderly borne to its last resting place in the Paris cemetery, and as the rays of the western sun fell across the flower-covered mound where sleeps all that is mortal of this pure, blameless man, the quartette sang "The Christian's Good Night."

Barred the "Turkey Trot."

The fair dance at Winchester during the Hospital Fair last week was a decided success even without the "turkey trot" upon which a ban had been placed by those in charge of the affair. A large banner extending almost the width of the hall bore the warning, "No turkey trotting," and this warning had the desired effect upon the dancers. Miss Clay Croxton, of Winchester, well-known in Paris, was one of the number to lead the dancers.

Shorthand Reporters Hold Meeting.

The Kentucky Shorthand Reporters' Association held its annual session in Lexington Friday and Saturday closing Saturday morning with the election of officers for the ensuing year which were as follows: Marvin Miller, Owensboro, President; J. G. McLean, Louisville, first vice President; Harry Kilgour, Ashland, second vice President; Mrs. Elizabeth C. Rogers, Lexington, formerly of Paris, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Rogers was re-elected. A luncheon was served at the Phoenix hotel Saturday morning and the shorthand artists made a trip to J. B. Haggin's Elmdorf farm in the afternoon.

Crowd Menaces Man Arrested Here.

Patrolman Fred Link and Jailer Joe Harris returned Friday morning from Falmouth, where they took Will Deans and Will Overtree, the two negroes arrested here by Patrolman Link Wednesday night, charged with complicity in the robbery of Paymaster Mullins, of the Patterson-Griffith Construction Co. When the train arrived in Falmouth several hundred people were at the depot to meet the officers with the men. Considerable ill-feeling had been stirred up as a result of the robbery, and the manner in which the victim was beaten by his assailants. For a time it was feared that an effort would be made to lynch the negroes and the officers from here stated the authorities at Falmouth were very apprehensive as to the safety of the two men.

Paymaster Mullins positively identified the men as being two of the five who assaulted him, beating him with a blunt instrument about the head and body, and taking the sum of $985. He was badly bruised about the head and one cheek was lacerated. Besides he suffered several broken ribs and an injury to his right hand.

After being brought before Mullins Overtree made a confession of the crime and stated that he was the leader of the five men who attacked the paymaster. Deans, who had protested his innocence, there also admitted being in the party. Officer Link turned over the descriptions of the three remaining negroes, who are thought to be in Cincinnati, to the Falmouth officials.

Insurance Promptly Paid.

Mr. W. O. Hinton, representing the American Insurance Company, of Newark, N. J., the Williamsburgh City Insurance Co., of Milwaukee, and the Mechanics Insurance Co., has paid the claims of Mr. J. B. Northcott, Mr. John Cain and Mr. W. T. Talbott for losses sustained in the recent fire which damaged the building of Mr. Northcott, on Main street destroyed the furnishing of Mr. Cain and the stock of clothing of Mr. Talbott. Within ten days after the fire a full settlement was made with the policy holders and the sum of $450.00 was paid to Mr. Cain, $750.00 to Mr. Northcott, while that of Mr. Talbott was $750.00.

A few days prior to the fire Mr. Cain moved to the flat from his home on Lillstone Avenue but the transfer of the policy on his household goods had not been made. Without questioning this technical point and upon the recommendation of Mr. Hinton the full amount of the policy was paid together with that of the other claim holders who suffered in the recent fire. Mr. Hinton has for a number of years represented these old reliable companies and the value of such policies can be measured by the prompt settlement in this case alone.

Insure with W. O. Hinton.
Prompt paying non-union companies.

Explicit Distinction.

"You will open the convention with prayer?" "Yes," replied the chaplain. "But, of course, you will bear in mind that it is a prayer and not prophecy."

No Cause to Repent.

Alice—So Maud is divorced. I knew when she married in such haste that she would repent at leisure. Kate—Oh, there's no repentance in her case; she gets $200 a month alimony.

Training Needed.

Mrs. Benham—I think it would be well for our boy to go to Sunday school. Benham—What for? Mrs. Benham—There is need of having his ideas straightened out; I told him something about St. Peter at the gate and he wanted to know if St. Peter was a ticket chopper.

Pedestrians.

A teacher in a primary school was endeavoring to make clear to her class the meaning of the words "equestrianism" and "pedestrianism" when she put this query to one small boy: "What is a pedestrian?" "He is one of those fellows," said the boy, "who makes an awful kick when an automobile runs him down."

Protect your growing tobacco with Hail Insurance.
THOMAS & WOODFORD.

$2,000,000 for Tobacco Growers.

After having been the means of handling more than 250,000,000 pounds of Burley tobacco, for which more than $25,000,000 was obtained for the farmers and officers of the organization since 1906, the Burley Tobacco Society will soon automatically pass out of existence.

This week more than thirty thousand checks are to be sent out to the farmers in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana as the final payment for tobacco sold through the pools of 1906, 1907 and 1909. There was no pool in 1908 because of the night riding outrages.

The ten-year pool for which a campaign was carried on last year under President Clarence Lebus, of the Burley Society and Burley Company, is formed under the latter organization which is the holding and operating concern, the Society being merely for pooling purposes.

The thirty thousand checks to be sent out this week to the farmers who were in the old pools will total about $2,000,000 and will be the final payment for tobacco sold under the Burley Society organization and will "wind up" the Society.
